Streets To Be Decorated And Specially Lighted Musical Festival Week

Entries are pouring into the office of H. L. Vaughan, secretary of the Grande Prairie Musical Festival, as this is the last day (May 5) to enter the various competitions in this big by the extra charge for late entry, provided for in the syllabus. Entries will be accepted later if accompanied to obtain reservations for an extra 25 cents.

Of more than ordinary interest is the shield for the best individual performance in the one-act play class offered by Mr. Berry, manager of radio station CKLW. The shield, which will be judged particularly on these points: This is open to male or female, any age, and the one with the largest contribution has a chance to win the shield becomes the property of the winner. Besides Grande Prairie abides for best individual performances one-act plays have been held at Rolla, Peace River and Fairview festivals by Mr. Berry.

A beautiful cup donated by Robert Simpson Company for play competitions in graded schools has arrived and is being much admired.

To satisfy the public's desire at a meeting in the office of the secretary Monday morning the executive decided to sell season tickets which will include all the musical events, the grand afternoons and evenings, and the grand concert of winners for the price of $1.25. There will also be reserved seats sold for the grand concert. Holders of season tickets will be able

"Olivet to Calvary" Presented St. Paul's On Sunday Evening

Under The Direction Of H. L. Vaughan The Various Parts Were Splendidly Rendered—Large Congregation Most Appreciative In The Chapel—Music Wood Accompanied On The Piano.

St. Paul's United Church was taxed to the limit Saturday evening, preceding when the double quartet presented that beautiful sacred cantata "Olivet to Calvary." Misses Vaughan, Sparby, Mrs. Canne, Mr. Pickard, Mr. Sparby, Mr. Moore, and G. P. Patterson. All solo parts were rendered and beautifully accompanied and harmonized.

The choruses were most ably presented and the phrasing and expression excellent.

The large congregation were very appreciative in their attention and at times a reverent hush was felt as the congregation followed the footprints of our Lord from Olivet to Calvary, a tribute to the real artistry of the choir and their conductor.

Hundreds Of Dead Fish Lying On Shore Of Bear Lake

That hundreds of fish are lying dead on the shore of Bear Lake was a statement made by Mr. Fred Thompson yesterday by Smith Moore, farming north of the lake, who was a visitor to Grande Prairie on Wednesday.

Asked for an explanation, Mr. Moore said that the only reason he gave was that the fish were trapped in certain places where the water froze to the bottom.

Mr. Moore has been farming on the lake for 10 years and he remarked that he had never seen so many dead fish.

Memorial Services To Late Colonel E. C. McDonnell

HIGH PRAIRIE, April 26.—On Tuesday morning, April 26, a large number of sorrowing friends and relatives attended a service in St. Paul's Church to mourn the loss of the late Col. E. C. McDonnell, father of Mrs. D. S. Hayden of this place.

Rev. Father A. J. Gould conducted a Requiem Mass for the repose of his soul.

The catafalque, draped in black, had Easter flowers placed upon it as a mark of respect for the deceased.

Col. McDonnell died in Calgary on April 8, at the age of 76.

Coming to Alberta with the Royal North West Mounties Police in 1886, Col. McDonnell assisted in the promotion of law and order in Alberta, and for some years in the Yukon.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayden and family have the sympathy of the community in their sad bereavement.

SPIRIT RIVER BAND IS ORGANIZED UNDER ITS OLD LEADER

SPIRIT RIVER, May 3.—On Monday night, May 2, at a large church hall meeting, the Spirit River Band was reorganized under the leadership of W. T. Atkinson, former well-known band leader, who returned to town after a long absence from here.

Under "Tommy's" able leadership Spirit River had a band which the people were justly proud of.

Since the bandmen have already arranged up new practices will be arranged for immediately.

From now on the life of the Spirit River band will be supervised by the band which under the banner of the old band should develop into a first-class organization.

RED CROSS SHOULD BE GENEROUSLY SUPPORTED

Working with a degree of efficiency unrealized by most Albertans, the Alberta Division of the Canadian Red Cross Society closed the year 1937 with a record of services rendered of which its officials may well be proud. The records as summarized below is true progress.

In a general way 717 families, representing 3,883 persons, were supplied with 7,513 articles of clothing and bedding. In addition, 1,000 in country areas supplies were issued to 3,237 families, representing 20,182 persons.

To families who lost their homes and belongings in the Breton and Cochrane relief was sent within 24 hours of the catastrophes.

Layettes, representing 2,627 articles of clothing for new Canadians in Alberta, were sent to expectant mothers.

Many appeals from ex-soldiers and the wives of men who did not receive relief afforded. The health by mail service operated by the division was particularly active and 90 nurses were employed during the year.

With 771 branches the Junior Red Cross branch of the Division's activities was increased by 104 over 1936, thus making the division more enthusiastic over the training they receive.

Perhaps the most impressive activity of the Division is the Junior Red Cross Hospital for Campfire children located in Calgary. During the year there were 81 patients admitted from all parts of the province, while 53 patients were visited by the outpatient department for treatment.

Altogether the cost of the 1937 operations was close to $30,000. This had to be met by contributions from the public. The campaign for Red Cross memberships and subscriptions for 1938 began May 1 and will end May 14. The objective of the committee is $20,000.

The Northern Tribune commends the cause of the Red Cross to its readers and trusts that as far as possible they will rally to this worthy organization's support.

Dad's Notions

By E. S. Stanley

Just what is it that "gets a man"? The frontier country and pioneer life seems to do it. Mr. York tells us that there is something about newspaper work that "gets a man."

Inured to privations and hardships, Mr. York noted nature as his example. In his explorations of nature he took trips across the continent afoot, journeyed abroad, visited Alaska, sojourned in Yukon, and in his travels experienced isolation that would unbalance less stable minds.

Twenty-five Miles Curie at 20 exceeded all from life but the one thing—the pursuit of science. After some years of privation and toll radii was brought to him. What this accomplished, short of his human comedy, has been great wealth, but they declined it and made their creation a free gift to the world. These rather to follow the world, these rather to follow the happiness of striving and achieving. Science "had got them."

Thirty-five years of handling radium left Mrs. Miles Curie dead. And she died at the hands of her own discovery; but by this discovery many now live who otherwise would also be gone.

But there is one capacity that far outranks all others for unselfishness. That of a mother is constant and enduring. Neither misfortune, nor shame, nor disgrace, nor even death can quench that sacred fire.

The driving urge that many feel is oftentimes compelling; but the flame that burns in mother's breast is predominantly an—object lesson and a symbol of the constant care and fond concern the Creator has for His creatures.

RE TOURIST TRAFFIC FOR NORTHERN ALBERTA

To the Editor:

The Canadian Press reports of April 19, 1938, state that figures compiled by the Department of Mines and Resources at Ottawa show that the total Tourist Traffic to Canada, from the U.S., in 1937 was 18,248,285, a gain of 1,000,000 visitors over the previous year of 1936. The most money spent in Canada from these visitors, is estimated at from $250,000,000 to $300,000,000. The largest amount of money spent was spent in Eastern Canada, the provinces of Ontario and Quebec being the principal beneficiaries.

On my return to my old home in North Dakota, I had numerous inquiries from prospective tourists and big game hunters about the possibilities of getting into the timber country with automobiles and getting out again. This I was not able to assure them of, and I cannot hope to benefit much in this article with the present unsatisfactory conditions of the Alberta highway system.

Eastern Canada plays up to the American tourist in all the leading American publications, and profits tremendously from it. But Eastern Canada has nothing in the way of attractions to bait northern Alberta and British Columbia, for big game hunters and tourist trade. Game is getting scarce in the northwestern States, but most of the game on western Canada for their future hunting and fishing expeditions.

It would seem that money spent for the completion and upkeep of the Peace River Highway would more than pay for itself in a few years, from this future tourist traffic, even if the funds to start it were temporary from bond issues or other means.

The horse cultivator should be used in getting the rows as soon as the weeds are up. This is the best method at this time may be done but all cultivation must be shallow so that the roots of the plants will not be disturbed. Cultivation should be done in account to when the land is too wet; it is better to wait for a clear sunny day. The spike-tooth harrow is best for this operation.

Hand weeding will be necessary for some kinds of vegetables. This should be done early before the weeds are established. Weeds in need should be uprooted and all and taken off the land where they may be piled to rot for compost, to kill all the seed.

Weeds should be kept from seedlings in a garden it can be got rid of "keeping it on the move," not allowing any green grass to appear.

The visitors would leave money with the lodges of travel in particular in Alberta and western Canada and this money would be outside money brought from the outside.

If the Northern Alberta highways were passable for auto during the fishing and big game seasons, we would have such an influx of American tourists and big game sportsmen that the northern roads would become the most traveled and most popular tourist route in western Canada.

Yours for better northern highways and a coast outlet.

TO PREVENT DAMAGE TO STRAWBERRY PLANTS

In view of the fact that much greater attention is being paid to the production of strawberries in Canada as a commercial crop, the pamphlet on common strawberry insects just issued by the Dominion Department of Agriculture will be very profitable indeed at this time of year in safeguarding the plants. It has been prepared by N. P. Gorham of the Dominion Experimental Station at Fredericton, N.B.

Strawberry production in Canada in 1937, estimated at 24,300,000 quarts, exceeded all past strawberry crops except that of 1935.

The quantity produced in 1937 was about 18 per cent above 1936, and 12 per cent above 1935.

Export shipments of fresh and processed strawberries represented an increase of nearly 90 per cent over the 1936 figure.

Weekly News Letter From Parliament Bldgs, Ottawa

By RENE PELLETIER, M.P.

EASTER RECESS

Three weeks ago, the feverish activity which always marks a session of the House ceased for the Easter recess and for that length of time everything was quiet. The House had adjourned when it had descended upon Parliament Hill.

Nearly all the members who do not live too far away had an opportunity to go home for a week or two.

The sudden departure of all these people makes quite a change: there is very little noise and hardly anyone to be seen around the buildings. The permanent staff, of course, is always on duty ready to receive and show the beauties of the Parliament Buildings to the many visitors.

apart from the flurry created in the afternoon, it ended rather quietly. The following day, the House resumed the session of unemployment which it had left off previous to the Easter recess. This is a measure sponsored by the Minister of Labor entitled "An act to alleviate unemployment and agricultural distress."

UNEMPLOYMENT AND AGRICULTURAL DISTRESS

An act introduced in the House last year to alleviate unemployment and agricultural distress. This is an exact replica of the measure passed last year, but it is not the same.

It is under this bill that the government provides funds for various works designed to assist unemployed.

There is nothing new or unusual in this act. We were already doing the same thing in our communities.

It is the same bill that the Purvis Commission which costs this country $300,000, would have supplied the government with some kind of over-all solution.

Everyone is agreed that the Purvis Commission should be kept, but the government has not yet decided whether to keep it or not.

SEXSMITH MEN LAND IN JAIL IN NATIVE HOLLAND

Mistaken For Nazis And Are Half Shot Out Before Sunrise In Fair City Of Utrecht

Some 27 years ago one Tony Van Brennen, who is now a prominent farmer, living near Sexsmith, left his native land, Holland, and farmed for his fortune, eventually landing in Sexsmith.

Having had his ups and downs in those 27 years, Tony took stock and decided that he would make a trip to take a trip back to see those relatives who were still living.

A friend of his, Bill, the son from Holland, thought it was long absent from that country, decided to go with him, and so they faced forth one day last December.

They were away in a considerable time to be away from one's folks, and as Tony's people were not expecting him, he had some difficulty in persuading them that he was the prodigal son returning home, as his native language was considered rather weak English. However, he was finally taken into the fold, and the fatted calf was killed.

During the boy's visit in Holland the son, who had come to provide an heir—or rather heiress—to the Dutch dynasty, and this was a perfectly good excuse to do some celebrating. Tony and his friend arrived at the respective qualities of the beverages in Canada and Holland, and on this evening went into the inn, the Coughie, which is just off the Canal of Utrecht, at which place, many years ago, the war of the Spanish Succession was settled, and this case it pretty nearly settled the bet.

On wending their way homeward they were pointing out to each other the new buildings that had been erected during their absence; and, incidentally, they were speaking English.

this seeming to come more natural to him than their mother tongue. They did not notice that they were being followed by the Dutch crowd who watched them with considerable suspicion and finally came to the conclusion that they were spies.

He accused them of some other try.

BACK FROM HOSPITAL

Hughie Gillies, who has been in the hospital since the time of the fire two months, arrived home on last Friday. Unfortunately for the boys, they had left their passports at the place they were staying, so they could not get them to help them. However, after considerable telephoning, they were finally released and allowed to go home again.

They were quite a relief, as the least they expected was to be shot at sunrise, but, as one of them stated, they would not have had far to go, as they were half-shot already.

RED JIM McDONNELL RECEIVES BIRTHDAY CONGRATULATIONS

Red Jim McDonald, who was 57 years young last week, was the recipient of many congratulatory messages over the radio, one from Mr. and Mrs. Hughie Dool, being a birthday batchelor. This does not seem very complimentary to Mrs. Dool, but we do not think it was meant in that way.

This was the second year in late unpleasantries in Europe. Another request, which was anonymous, was to play "Onward Christian Soldiers." This no doubt was owing to Jim's deeply religious nature.

HUBER'S NEW GREENHOUSE BEGINNING TO TAKE SHAPE

Another industry of considerable importance is beginning to take shape in town. Fred Huber is building a large greenhouse 10 feet high by 16 feet deep. One side, both ends and the roof will be entirely of glass. Mr. Huber expects to have it running during the summer and early fall when flowers of all kinds will be available. There will be a heating plant installed, and it will be an all-round job, I am sure. Will tell you more about this later.

Many a man and woman who have given up hope of having cure, have become interested in Chiropractic and now happily smile as they tell of the method that reaches the cause of their disease. A few additional visits will bring relief and convince you of the wonderful efficacy of this science of naturally conducted health.

GORDONDALE

QUIET A DEPTH OF SUBSOIL MOISTURE

GORDONDALE, April 27.—Once again tillage operations are in progress. To date, seed has been sown, and with the warmth of the last two days several will be seedling immediately. The light rains and snows reported recently have been such which a month ago were drying out fast. The creek did not obtain its normal spring flow by 5 feet 4 inches on the usual date, but the snow had near-average snow during the winter. The subsoil is saturated to quite a depth, which assures the grain to a good start.

HIGHWAY NOT AS BAD AS OTHER YEARS

The highway is in plenty soft since the frost is off the ground but not as bad as other years. The dead furrow left where it was plowed last fall helped considerably. It is hoped that it will be graded this year—we will never have a road until it is done, except a trail.

CAPITOL

WINN ACCOLADE FROM NOVELIST AND COLUMNIST

Myrna Loy is the fictional favorite. She is the inspiration of magazine writers, novelists and news papers. Those who have adopted her as their model of feminine beauty.

A check reveals that the star leads all the headlines in all sections of the press.

Frank Capra's new film, "The Thin Man," will be shown at the Capitol.

She is beautiful but no Myrna Loy, wrote one author.

"She thinks she's a Myrna Loy," scoffed another of one of his characters.

One of Myrna's ardent fans is a young writer, rapidly rising in prominence, who told the star in a letter, "I would like to tell you of the first story I ever sold, and here it is since you brought me luck."

Naughty and innocent Hollywood stars appear throughout the picture.

Miss Loy is the principal attraction.

A noted columnist, after talking with the star during the filming of "After the Thin Man," said: "She has the two qualities a man most appreciates in a woman, frankness and naturalness."

The room were decorated with scenes of the picturesque island, and with the young artists' pencil sketches of the South Sea Isles. Models, one of a native home complete with domesticated animals, and the other a lovely little coral (popcorn) island (of flour, salt, baking, etc), with its coconut palms swaying under the weight of their (plastacene) fruit, and a home-made scrap book attracted much attention.

The children opened the concert by singing "O Canada We Bring To Thee."

Then the chairman of the room, Mrs. McNeely, briefly and wittily called upon, and commented upon each entertainer.

Mr. George Slipshap goes the credit of being the chairman of the enterprise committee.

Billy Duncan explained the South Seas.

Hobby Miller told the story of the life of Captain Cook.

Rodney Fawcett explained the natural history of the South Seas, then Donald Pendleton of letters of the mail he received from school children in the South Seas.

A pleasing variation next was the musical interlude, a guitar solo by Gertie Clark.

Johnnie Putter gave a candid eye-opener of the make-up of their model island.

An excellent pageant of scenes from the life of Robert Louis Stevenson ended this first-class program. Jake Wieden, Norman Coates and Jake Wright also sang in turn R.S. at various stages in his life; while, behind the scenes, voices spoke his thoughts and feelings as he wrote. Hawaii's chiefs welcomed him with gifts, and hula girls entertained him with soft plaintive music, as, under the magic of the Southern Seas, Stevenson found the fountain of the fairytale of his mind to enchant the world.

The pupils are to be commended on the keen interest they took in this pageant and on the originality of their costumes.

Rev. A. Willis Gunn, on behalf of the parents, thanked and praised Miss Clifford for the excellent work done by her pupils.
